

Get to know your LIFE physician

Luz Ramos, M.D.

Regional Medical Officer – Eastern Region

InnovAge Pennsylvania LIFE

“My favorite part of my job is interacting with participants. I learn so much from their experiences, which makes me a better physician and person.”

— Dr. Luz Ramos-Bonner

Dr. Ramos-Bonner earned her Doctor of Medicine from the University of the East Philippines and her Master of Business Administration in Healthcare from George Washington University. She completed her internal medicine residency at St. Francis Medical Center in Trenton, NJ and her geriatric medicine fellowship at Albert Einstein Medical Center in Philadelphia. Dr. Ramos-Bonner is board certified in geriatric medicine.

Previously, Dr. Ramos-Bonner served as the Network Medical Director of NewCourtland Senior Services in Philadelphia. She is a faculty member for the Society for Post-Acute and Long-Term Care (AMDA) and an active member of the Pennsylvania chapter of the AMDA.

Dr. Ramos-Bonner loves to travel—she was born and raised in the Philippines and still has family there, exploring foods from around the world, and spending time with her family.
